

Stepping Stones:

- There is a difference between belonging to God, and living to please God.
- Our relationships are to be built on respect for God, others, and self.
- The way we work says something important about our God